For A Dancer

For A Dancer - JACKSON BROWNE
From the 1974 album: Late For The Sky
Sumbitted by D. Weil

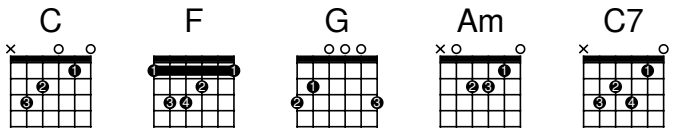

The song is mainly played on a piano, but heres the guitar chords anyway. Pretty straight foreward, no tricky stuff and all basic open position chords. Just watch for the Am to C7 switch. Enjoy!

```
C                       F
 Keep a fire burning in your eye
C                       F
 Pay attention to the open sky
C                        F                        C     G
 You never know what will be coming down

C                              F
 I don't remember losing track of you
C                                    F
 You were always dancing in and out of view
C                              F                    C     G
 I must've thought you'd always be around
Am                             F                          C
 Always keeping things real by playing the clown
                 G
 Now you're nowhere to be found

C   F   C   G
C                                        F
 I don't know what happens when people die
C                                    F
 Can't seem to grasp it as hard as I try
F
        C                  F
 It's like a song I can hear playing right in my ear
               C                      G
 That I can't sing  -  I can't help listening
C                                    F
 And I can't help feeling stupid standing 'round
C                   F
 Crying as they ease you down
```

C F C
'Cause I know that you'd rather we were dancing
G Am
Dancing our sorrow away
F
Right on dancing
C G
No matter what fate chooses to play
C
There's nothing you can do about it anyway

F C
Just do the steps that you've been shown
F C G
By everyone you've ever known
Am C7
Until the dance becomes your very own
F G
No matter how close to yours
Am F
Another's steps have grown
C G
In the end there is one dance you'll do alone

C F C G
Keep a fire for the human race
Let your prayers go drifting into space
You never know what will be coming down
Perhaps a better world is drawing near
And just as easily it could all disappear
Along with whatever meaning you might have found

Am F C
Don't let the uncertainty turn you around

The world keeps turning around and around
G C
Go on and make a joyful sound

F C
Into a dancer you have grown
F C G
From a seed somebody else has thrown
Am C7 F
Go on ahead and throw some seeds of your own
F G Am
And somewhere between the time you arrive
F
And the time you go
C G
May lie the reason you were alive

But you'll never know

C F C G C G C
