A Chicken With Its Head Cut Off

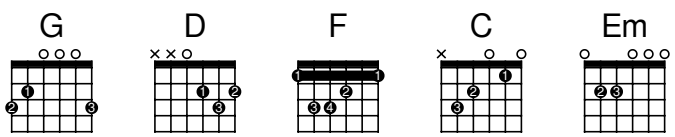

G D
Eligible, not too stupid,
F C
intelligible and cute as Cupid,
G D
knowledgeable, but not always right,
F C
salvageable and free for the night.

G
Well my heart's running round
C
like a chicken with its head cut off,
D
all around the barnyard
C G falling in and out of love.
C D G
The poor thing's blind as a bat
C
getting up, falling down, getting up.
D C
Who'd fall in love with a chicken
G
with its head cut off?

(Whoa, Nellie)

G D
My wife doesn't understand me.
F C
Many dozens hope to land me.
G D
I'm for free love, and I'm in free fall.
F C
This could be love or nothing at all.

G
Well my heart's running round
C
like a chicken with its head cut off,
D
all around the barnyard
C G falling in and out of love.
C D G
The poor thing's blind as a bat

                                        C
getting up, falling down, getting up.
        D   C
Who'd fall in love with a chicken
                    G
with its head cut off?

                          C
We don't have to be stars

            D
exploding in the night

   G   Em
or electric eels under the covers.

            C
We don't have to be

D   G
anything quite so unreal

                Em
Let's just be lovers.

            G
Well my heart's running round
                                      C
like a chicken with its head cut off,
   D
all around the barnyard
        C   G falling in and out of love.
      C   D   G
The poor thing's blind as a bat
                                      C
getting up, falling down, getting up.
        D   C
Who'd fall in love with a chicken
                    G
with its head cut off?

                  C D G
(It ain't pretty)

Source: http://tabs.ultimate-guitar.com/m/magnetic_fields/a_chicken_with_its_head_cut_off_crd.htm